A Kitchen to be Proud Of...

Our kitchen was recently inspected, unannounced, by health and safety officials as part of their monitoring cycle. I'm pleased to tell you that it received the highest hygiene rating—a 5! We now have even more reasons to celebrate our kitchen! Well done to Mrs Derrick and our kitchen staff for the great work they do.

A special mention for out of school achievement to:

- Liam Hickman
- Jessica Haybyrne Taberner
- Eloise-Mae Green
- Lewis Nolan

World Book Day!

World Book Day is here again (March 2nd) and our love of reading. Children (and staff) are invited to come to school dressed as a favourite character or figure from a book.

Stay Safe Week

Stay Safe Week

Our children have spent lots of time this week thinking about their own and others' safety. On Monday, Matt from the NSPCC delivered an assembly to KS1 and KS2 delivering the NSPCC's Speak out. Stay safe programme. He also led workshops with our older children in upper KS2. Further information for parents and children can be found on the following website: www.nspcc.org.uk/services-and-resources/working-with-schools/speak-out-stay-safe-service

On Tuesday, each class explored online safety as it was E-Safety day, a national day to raise awareness of safe internet use. Wednesday was a busy day for our Junior Safety Officers. In the morning, they had an early start, working with our PCSO Tony Spruce and Lesley Patterson to make parking safer around school. They even issued some friendly parking tickets! In the afternoon, they led an assembly for the whole school, sharing E-Safety messages for everyone. Many thanks to Leo, Penny, Lucy and Charlie for the all of their hard work to keep us safe. Further information for children and adults can be found on the following website: www.thinkuknow.co.uk

We would love photos of you reading with your children for our display board. Thank you for your support.

Homework

We believe that homework helps children to 'be the best they can be'. It reinforces key knowledge and skills that children need to succeed. It also helps children to develop skills and values that will set them up for success in high school and later life. Look out for class newsletters that tell you when homework is set and when it needs to be returned.

Parents can play an important part in helping to train children to be committed to homework, take a pride in it and be organised enough to take it home and return it on time. We very much appreciate your help with this.

If there are ever any problems with homework, please speak to your child's teacher or teaching assistant without delay.

we're planning lots of activities to deepen our love of reading. Children (and staff) are invited to come to school dressed as a favourite character or figure from a book.
